

TEODORA BRODY

Biography (short)

Acclaimed for her extraordinary voice and creative vision, Teodora Brody is an award-winning vocalist whose artistry encompasses jazz, classical, folk music, and beyond.

Over the last 25 years, Teodora has forged a singular path through the international jazz scene, collaborating with legendary artists including Stanley Jordan and the late Johnny Răducanu, appearing at prestigious venues from Montreux, Lugano, and Marciac Festivals to New York City's Iridium Club, and pioneering the fusion of jazz with her native Romania's improvisatory folk singing tradition Doina.

More recently Teodora's intrepid musical imagination has taken her into new territory, exploring classical music from an entirely fresh perspective, with original vocal renditions of masterpieces by the likes of Beethoven, Bach, Enescu, and Bartók. Following acclaimed performances at George Enescu Festival in 2019 and 2021, Teodora returns to the Romanian Athenaeum in 2023, joining forces with the Manchester Camerata.

With upcoming projects including an album recorded with the London Symphony Orchestra, 2023 is proving to be another exciting year for this peerless, genre-defying artist.
